What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small pieces of data that are stored on your device's browser directory when you visit a website. Cookies allow websites to function efficiently and usually store information in relation to your visits such as what device you are using.

For general cookie information, visit http://cookiepedia.co.uk/all-about-cookies.

Cookie Policy

Trive Financial Services UK Limited or 'Trivepro', appreciate the significance of your privacy. We are committed to providing you with the necessary information and tools you need to manage your cookies.

Cookie Classification

Trivepro use cookies on our websites for security purposes, optimisation, tailored content and advertising.

Strictly Necessary

These cookies are necessary for our website to function and cannot be switched off by our systems. If you decide to disable essential cookies, you may not be able to access parts of our website, complete our application forms or access our secure client area.

Performance

These cookies allow us to count site visits, traffic sources and help us understand how visitors use our website so that we can provide the services that you have come to expect from a modern website. The information we derive from this type of cookie may be used to provide tailored site content and allow us to adapt the site based on your preferences.

Functional

These cookies enable our website to provide enhanced functionality and personalisation. They may be set by us or by third party providers whose services we have added to our pages.

Targeting

These cookies allow us to monitor and analyse the performance, operation and effectiveness of our advertisements. They also enable you to see content and adverts, which are personalised towards your needs and determined by your activity through the use of our websites.

You can load our cookie centre to view the active cookies on our site. The cookie centre will be updated from time to time, however; we cannot guarantee that the list will always be complete.
